V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-16	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-16	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-16	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

1. The subject matter of claim 1 is considered novel and inventive.

Claim 1 relates to a method for determining the spatial coordinates of an object, said method employing a first recording device in a conventional manner (see preamble).

Publications relating to similar recording methods are mentioned in the present description (page 1, line 19 to page 4, line 28).

The features of the characterizing part, in particular the use of a second recording device that remains fixed relative to the object to be measured, makes it possible to calibrate the system separately from the measuring process (description, page 5, line 36 to page 6, line 16), which cannot be found in the prior art.

According to document D1 (DE-A-100 25 741), which was cited in the search report and also mentioned in the description (page 4, line 30 to page 5, line 19), an object is illuminated from at least two directions. Although the object can be recorded from different positions of a sensor array in order to produce a recording from different views (see D1, abstract), this arrangement does not serve the present purpose. Moreover, it is impossible to avoid unwanted shading in particular complex objects using this method (see present description, page 5, lines 16-19).

2. Device claim 9 corresponds to method claim 1 and is also well-suited "for performing the method according to one of claims 1 to 8".
3. Claims 2-8 and 10-16 are dependent claims.
